

February 02, 2026: On the Trump Train's Airhorn Signs in my Home

All throughout the night the Trump Train that runs past our home continues to blare airhorn sounds (this could be from a Mac-truck nearby as well, and in fact has been evidenced to me to also be coming from a regular large truck with an air-horn that has been seen around our home).

All of that is simply to set the scene for the messages that get sent as stimuli into our home.

Often times, these air horns coincide directly with our attempts to go to sleep or some other 'quiet time' activity.

However, tonight, the Trump Train is signaling its airhorn (Trumpet) at the following image.

As we can all clearly see now, Donald is relishing in his moment of absolute despotism and has a great pride being shown by his team as they throw in our faces the fact that they are disgusting perverts. Howabout the Epstein gifts to his friends: an I-WATCH?! (Yes, they do watch and the Trump Team of perverts watches us in our home using the American spy and surveillance technology).

So with the approval of the Trumpet of the Trump Train blowing its horn for me inside of my own home while I do work at 3:30 a.m., I present to you the object of their 'rising horns':
